- I say unto you, resist not him that is evil

If someone trespasses on my property or attempts to break in and perhaps succeed. I will notify that person(s) that we are armed. If they don't depart, and we are safe, I will seek to engage them and see what their needs are. If they need food, clothing or shelter, I will do all I can to provide that to them as long as my family is safe.

If they seek to persecute me for my faith, then I must lay down my weapons and be willing to be martyred for my faith.

5. Family

Even if your husband or wife nags you, this is important for obvious reasons. In a society where wealth is no longer defined by money, family and community ties will hold the most wealth. "At the end of the day being a pragmatist," one hedge fund manager said, "we have to prepare for ourselves and our family."

6. Water

Basic, but necessary: Look for wells or a creek on the grounds. A way to purify the water is also important. I will be getting the Lifesaver Bottle, check it out for yourself, you never know when you may need clean, safe water to drink.

7. Multiple Ways of Communication

A cell phone or landline is not enough, said several people. Satellite phones are preferred.
